

Delray Forum

Latest updates from your community.

> For more Palm Beach County news, please click here.

« Community Food Pantry in Delray Beach needs some help | Main | Local architectural firm is building energy efficient focus »

Delray Beach resident uses his business to solve problems for residents

> Posted by DAve DiPino on August 10, 2009 at 11:49 AM

After 30 years of professional experience in life insurance and estate planning, Alan Topchik moved to Delray Beach and started a modern-day problem solving business in neighboring Boca Raton. Topchik, 52, said The VIP Solution Master LLC is the only one globally doing detailed consulting work that is saving Delray Beach and Boca Raton residents' money, time and aggravation.

He opened business this spring, and one of his early calls was from a senior who was unsure about the estimate she had gotten from a serviceman for work she wanted done on a screen enclosure. The estimate was for $30,000.

"I found a few independent contractors and got the screen work done for her at a cost of $1,500," Topchik said.

Last week, the VIP Solution Master helped a local homeowner who had a serious overcharge issue with tile installed in his home. Topchik helped the man dispute a fraudulent credit card charge, then typed up three letters, contacted the credit card company, and called the tile company to let them know they were violating consumer's rights. The fraudulent credit card charge was resolved shortly thereafter.

This week Topchik is helping a woman about to buy her retirement home with his expert advice in a real estate deal.

How much does this type of advice cost? Well, Topchik says per day it's lower than the cost of a coffee at Starbucks.

For more information visit www.thevipsolutionmaster.com or call 561-981-2501 or email: info@thevipsolutionmaster.com.

Read more about this story in the Aug. 12 issue of the Boynton Forum.

ABOUT THIS BLOG

Dave DiPino

David DiPino joined Forum Publishing Group in August 2006. As a reporter for the Delray Forum, David covers community news and writes a dining column twice a month that focuses on restaurants in South Palm Beach County.

He also is one of the writers of the twice-monthly Hometown Downtown column that looks at events, celebrations, and organizations in Delray and Boynton Beach. He freelances for the Sun-Sentinel during high school football and basketball seasons.

David spent 12 years working in the restaurant industry, and did just about every job in the back of the house, including line cook, sous chef, and dessert chef. A Florida native who lives in Jupiter, he studied Multimedia Journalism at Florida Atlantic University, where he obtained a bachelor's degree. David enjoys playing the guitar, golf, boating and snorkeling during his free time.

Contact him at ddipino@gmail.com or 954-621-5000.